Department of Computer Science

Report on
'Research Orientation Program - Design,
Thinking, Innovation and Research'

The Department of Computer Science organized a research orientation program for students of BBA(CA) and BSc(CS) on 12th February 2022 as part of inculcating research culture amongst the students.

The guest speaker Prof. Shashikant Shinde, associated with MMCIII, oriented the students on various ICT technologies that aid in undertaking research work. He elaborated on the current area of research in Artificial Intelligence, Internet of Things, Data Analytics etc and their applications in different fields and sectors.

The 141 students found the online session interactive and interesting and motivated all for organizing more such programs.
