9. Brief description of the event:

The Department of Business Administration organized a guest session on “Higher Education Abroad” to provide students with valuable insights into international education and global career opportunities. The session was conducted by Ms. Jinal Asher, who shared her expertise on various aspects of pursuing higher education in foreign universities.

The session began with an overview of the advantages of studying abroad, including exposure to diverse cultures, access to world-class educational institutions, international networking opportunities, and enhanced career prospects. Students were introduced to different study destinations and the academic opportunities available in countries known for their quality education and research facilities.

Ms. Asher provided detailed information about the admission process, including selecting an appropriate course and university, understanding eligibility requirements, preparing application documents, and meeting admission deadlines. She also explained the importance of academic performance, extracurricular activities, and statement of purpose in the university selection process.

The session further covered important topics such as scholarship opportunities, education loans, financial planning, language proficiency examinations, and visa procedures. Students were also guided on how to prepare for standardized tests and develop a strong academic profile to improve their chances of securing admission to reputed international universities.

An interactive discussion was conducted on career opportunities after completing higher education abroad. Students actively participated in the session by asking questions related to university selection, course specialization, scholarships, living expenses, and employment opportunities in different countries.

The session concluded with a question-and-answer segment, where students received practical guidance on planning their academic journey and exploring global educational opportunities. Overall, the session proved to be highly informative and motivating, encouraging students to consider international education as a pathway to academic and professional growth.
